Pleated

High Performance Conservatory pleated Blinds

“Feeling the heat Justin? You will in an un-shaded conservatory!

Solar gain? You probably never understood the term until you got a conservatory or a room with a south facing window. Kinda hot isn't it?

What you need is a Homestyle by Vantana high performance blind.

The special coating allows just the right amount of light through, so the room isn't plunged into darkness as with a blackout fabric. But more importantly, the pearlised coating reflects more light than a normal fabric, bouncing some of the light and hence the heat energy it carries, back out the window.

These are very clever blinds and can be made to cater for special shapes and locations.
